Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 25 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Breezy with occasional rain and drizzle.

Today:
Generally cloudy through Christmas Day with patchy light rain and drizzle, this becoming more frequent during the afternoon with the odd heavier burst, especially further west. Feeling chilly in a brisk breeze. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
More persistent rain, heavy at times, pushing northeast overnight, potentially falling as snow over the Staffordshire Moors in the early hours. Drier conditions following but staying largely cloudy. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Sunday:
Any rain still across the northeast soon clearing on Boxing Day. Some brighter spells following but with scattered showers in between. Winds falling light so not feeling as chilly. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Drier with some brightness on Monday and Tuesday before it turns widely wet and windy on Wednesday. Becoming increasingly mild.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.